Happy December!

The Stress of the Holiday Season and Finals.

As the year quickly comes to a close, the stress of the holiday season coupled with finals can be daunting for many. The Department of Public Safety would like to remind those who feel overwhelmed during these next few weeks that they are not alone. The University along with local private and public agencies provides confidential resources available to help (often at no to low cost). Please do not hesitate to utilize the resources that are available through the University and other agency websites.

Please be mindful of your personal safety during the holidays by securing your vehicles and not leaving items of value in plain view (including charging cords leading into the center console or glove box). We would like to ask for your assistance in maintaining our safe campus by notifying the Department of Public Safety of any suspicious activities in and around the campus. We are here twenty-four hours a day to assist our campus community.

For those students who will be staying on campus during the holiday break, you will be notified by Housing of our upcoming annual December fire drills in each of the housing units. For those who have approved animals, please be aware of the stress the audible alarms will cause the animals during the drills by not leaving them unattended. We suggest the animals be taken from the campus during the assigned fire drills. Housing will provide the dates and times of the drills.

On behalf of the members of the Department of Public Safety, we would like to wish everyone well on their finals, a safe and joyous season, and a wonderful holiday break with family and friends. We look forward to seeing everyone after the holiday break for a prosperous 2018!
